NATIONAL CHAIRMAN HULL POINTS WAY BY WHICH DEMOCRATS CAN WIN.

The following message of hope by Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was delivered to Tennessee Democrats assembled to do him honor at the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville last Wednesday night:

"I know that the great body of Tennessee Democrats are tired of strife and factionalism. They want to win. They deserve to win. We must and do recognize that the success of the party means far more than the success of any group or faction. We may have our friendly rivalry in the primaries, but we must forget and bury all our differences thereafter, if we are to win. Let the Democratic party then offer the people a program so big, so concrete, so sound and constructive, and so comprehensive and convincing by reason of its strength and its honesty that it will command the support of the of the voters. On such a platform we will inevitably win."

There was little in Mr. Hull's address that touched upon Tennessee affairs as separate from the affairs of the nation, but in his capacity as leader of the party he made vigorous arraignment of Republican leadership.

He charged the reactionary Republican leadership with having made "wholesale and unscrupulous promises to the American people from 1918 to 1920," and declared that if "wholesale breach of solemn and unqualified promises to the people constituted a statutory crime every reactionary Republican leader, state and national, would, under a plea of guilty, be in the custody of the law."

In comparing the Democratic and Republican records of the past eight years, Chairman Hull asserted that the latter had been content to "play cheap, narrow and venomous politics at every step," at the expense of the American business man, farmer and laborer.

A promise of tax relief was made in the last campaign, he said, but so far the people have obtained "nothing tangible or at all satisfactory," and he added that the Republicans "have never studied internal taxation."

"They took the campaign contributions of a few big taxpayers," he said, "and bargained to relieve them during 1921. This contract embraced their real tax program."

Declaring that there was "no deadlier weapon with which to destroy foreign trade than a high tariff," he pointed out that there are 528,000 idle freight cars, 110 idle merchant ships, hundreds of mills, factories and mines closed and millions of idle and hungry laborers because of the failure of the administration at Washington.

SLAUGHTERS BIG SPOTTED POLAND CHINA HOGS.

G. L. Dudley of Free State, one of the leading farmers of the county, killed three unusually large hogs one day last week. They were the Spotted Poland China, and weighed 2100 pounds. The largest one, which was three years old, weighed even 800 pounds, and the other two weighing 775 and 525. Three hundred pounds of lard was rendered from the three hogs. Mr. Dudley has been raising this type of hog for sometime and has been very successful.

Gainesboro Locals.

Miss Annette Draper has returned to T. P. I., Cookeville.

Miss Ethel Bolen spent the holidays with friends in Celina.

Mrs. Lou Terry of R-2, was the guest of relatives here Monday.

Wallace Haile, of Flynn's Lick, entered school here Monday.

Willard Johnson has returned to Pulaski, where she is attending Martin College.

Tom Gailbreath has returned to Sweetwater Military school, after spending the holidays here.

If you are feeling badly, put your troubles away by taking Tanlac—Anderson & Haile, Gainesboro, Tenn.

Mrs. Minnie McDearman and son, W. E. McDearman and wife have moved to Mrs. McDearman's farm in Free State.

Mrs. Bird Lee Quarles, Jr., and little son, spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Sadler, near Whitleyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ludney, of Free State, have moved to the old David Loftis home in Gainesboro. Mr. Ludney recently purchased the property of Quarles & McCauley Company for $2,750.

F. L. Pate has resigned his position with Joseph, Frank & Son, Nashville, and returned to Gainesboro. Mr. Pate is yet undecided as to what he will do, but will remain here for awhile.

H. Grady Gore, local attorney, spent the week of Dec. 18th in Manchester, Tenn., where he attended Chancery Court. Mr. Gore made the return trip in a Buick car, for which he traded his Ford and a little boat.

B. P. Shirley, of Shirley & Huff, Granville, was in town Monday. Mr. Shirley called at the Sentinel office and left an order for some job work. Considering the financial strain, Mr. Shirley says their business has been good during the past 12 months.

Esq. John B. Billingsley of R-3, was a visitor at this office Tuesday. Esq. Billingsley is one of the old standbys of the Sentinel and never fails to call in at the first of the year and renew his subscription. We would be delighted to have about a thousand more subscribers just as prompt as "Uncle" John.

H. L. McDearman and son, W. P. McDearman of Aberdeen, Miss., formerly of Gainesboro, came up last week and remained several days visiting friends and looking after personal matters. Everything is moving along nicely, he says, and his family satisfied with their new home.

John L. Meadows of Milligan College, Milligan, Tenn., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Meadows on R-2. During his visit he filled the pulpit at Hurricane several days, preaching some interesting sermons. Mr. Meadows has worked his way through college, and will at expiration of the present term, receive his diploma. He deserves great credit for what he has accomplished.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Fiske, of Monterey, were in Gainesboro last week en route to Celina, where they visited relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Fiske have been conducting a job printing plant until recently. They have moved to Cookeville, where Mr. Fiske will take a course in Linotype work, which has just been

The New Year

THE year that has just closed means something different to most everybody. To some it has brought a great joy; to others a great sorrow; to many, both grief and gladness in full measure. Many of us have gone along the regular, uneventful path, filled with the happiness of love and work and the joy of everyday things, which, after all, is the best happiness.

To youth the New Year means a long, pleasure-filled evening and the writing of a new date on their letters. They look neither forward nor back. They make resolutions because it seems the correct thing to them to do. They keep them sometimes and it helps make them better men and women, but it is not a serious matter with them—just as is natural for youth.

Older folks involuntarily look back a bit on the even of a new year—not systematically, but with a general sweeping glance that usually makes them a bit uncomfortable at things left undone or failures to make good as they had intended. Maybe there has been just one thing accomplished that gives them a little warm feeling round their hearts—maybe not. The great sorrow or great joy stands out with more meaning to them than to youth. 'Tis another milestone passed.

The New Year may not present very bright prospects to some, but there is something better in store than what the immediate future seems to offer—know that unhappy things can't last—that they are pretty sure to lead to something greater and better—know that even if they can't understand the reason for sorrow and trouble that there is a reason—know it deep down within themselves, though outwardly they resent and rebel against fate. It is not blind faith or optimism that teaches this, but reason and knowledge of life.

Older folks know that the year is bound to bring happiness and relief to those who are now bearing sorrow and trouble.—Mrs. J. E. Leslie, in the Detroit News.

BLACK NEW YEAR PUDDING

Ingredients: One cupful black molasses; one cupful thick sour milk; one dessertspoonful soda; beat well. Add one teaspoonful salt; one grated nutmeg; one-eighth pound citron, chopped fine; one-fourth pound suet, chopped fine; four dry figs, chopped fine; one dozen almonds, minced fine; one cupful seeded raisins; three raw tart apples, chopped coarsely; three cupfuls flour. Mix all together, steam in a buttered mold for three hours and dry for 15 minutes in an oven. Serve with any good pudding sauce. This will serve 15 persons.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved: To save my money
And lead a frugal life.
Resolved: To do my duty
And still abstain from strife.
Resolved: To give up smoking
And never touch a drop.
Resolved: To heed the speed laws
And never offend a cop.
Resolved: To quit complaining
And smile whenever I can.
Resolved: To cease from knocking
And praise my fellow man.
Resolved—but what's the use of
My plunging in so deep?
I've made more resolutions
Than any man could keep.

established in connection with the soldiers vocational school.

Marshall Hall of Cookeville, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall on R-2, last week.

Jas T. Quarles, popular traveling man of Cookeville, was the guest of his brother, L. C. Quarles several days last week.

Mrs. P. J. Anderson and two sons, Russel Burton and Wayne, and her brother, Harry Page, have been visiting their parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Page at Granville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Pate and little son, A. M. Jr., after a two weeks visit with Mr. Pate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Pate, have returned to their home in Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Ofa Johnson and family have moved to the old Murray property, belonging to D. B. Johnson, in east side of town. Mrs. Johnson has had charge of the Gainesboro Telephone exchange here for the past three years.

Ree Roberts and family have moved to the property belonging to his daughter, Mrs. Ella Burton Washburn on west side, formerly occupied by Mrs. Minnie McDearman.

M. P. Bailey and family have moved to Gainesboro, after residing at Meagsville for three months. Mr. Bailey has rented rooms at the Telephone office for the present.

Miss Lora Young has returned to Nashville, after a visit of several days with her mother, Mrs. Sadie Young.

H. Raggio Young, Deputy Internal Revenue Collector who spent the holidays with his family here, has returned to work.

John Landon Quarles, returned to Nashville, last week after a few days visit with home folks.

All the local merchants reports big sales during the holidays. Most all the toy departments were cleaned up, besides heavy trading in other lines.

Tom J. Meadows, of Nashville, and two sons, Carmen and Mabry, of Livingston, spent the week-end with relatives here.

Popular Young People Wed.

A wedding which came as a surprise to many of their friends was that of Miss Mary Oma Haney and Garland Jackson, which was solemnized in Gainesboro Monday evening Dec. 26th, at 6 o'clock, in front of the residence of R. A. Montgomery, Esq. Montgomery performing the ceremony in the presence of a few friends of the bride and groom.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jackson motored to the home of the groom's parents in the 12th district, where an elaborate supper was served.

The bride is an attractive young lady and is the daughter of Henry Haney of the 10th district. The groom is Register of this county and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jackson of the 12th district. Both have numerous of friends, who wish them much happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will set up house-keeping in Gainesboro, having rented the Gainesboro Telephone Co's property in west side of town.

Edna Richmond Undergoes Operation At Nashville.

Edna, the ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Richmond of Rough Point, who was carried to the Woman's Hospital Nashville for an operation for pluriy several days ago, is reported getting along nicely. The operation was performed by Dr. W. A. Bryan, who states that she will be able to return home inside of three weeks. A portion of the seventh rib was removed and a large quantity of puss taken out. The child was stricken with pneumonia fever while attending the school field day here Dec. 2nd. It is hoped that she will soon be restored to health.

Destroys Big Still.

W. F. Hawkins, deputy sheriff of this county, and Leo Purcell, destroyed a large copper still on Pine Lick one day last week, and poured out a large quantity of beer. They also destroyed a number of boxes and barrels and other accessories found at the still. No arrest were made, the operators had evidently been informed of the approach of the officers, and made their getaway.

Child Sustains Serious Burn.

Bill, the little 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fowler Baugh, sustained a very serious burn in one of his eyes, when he ran against an iron, with which his mother was ironing. The accident occurred about two weeks ago, and it was thought at first that he would lose his eye, but it is the opinion now that the eye will get all right with proper attention.

G. F. Haile of Gallatin, R-1, after visiting his son, H. R. Haile and wife, and other relatives in the county, has returned home.

Mrs. Leslie Hargis and children have returned to their home in Granville, after a week's visit here.

Nan and Ruth Young, of Cookeville, visited friends here last week.

J. B. Spurlock, who has been teaching the fall term of school at New Salmen, left last Saturday for Berea, Ky., where he will enter Berea College.

HIGH SCHOOL BEGINS WINTER SESSION WITH LARGE ENROLLMENT.

The total enrollment for our school to date is 264, 51 of whom are in the high school.

There are 27 in the Home Economics Department. This department, under management of Miss Myers is doing good work.

We have two good classes in Teacher Training work. The subjects taught are Psychology, School Methods and Management. This is a splendid opportunity for any one who has taught, or is preparing to teach, to take advantage of this professional work. It is something that every teacher needs.

The fall term examinations were held on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 22 and 23. Complete fall term reports for all high school pupils will be ready to hand out in a few days. Quite a number of the high school pupils have done good work and have made splendid grades. Others have studied less at night and have done only fairly well. A few have fallen low. No high school pupil will do well without doing night work. The high school pupils are distributed fairly well among the four high school grades.

We were glad to enroll the following new pupils, in high school, this week: Dorris Haile, Ora Smith, Nannie Vanhooser, Gallie Vanhooser, James Welch, Wallace Haile, Raggio Dudley, and Bain Hawkins. Some others from various points of the county are expected to enter within the next few days.

Mr. Beck has taken charge of the seventh and eighth grade room and we feel sure that he can and will do good work in that department. He will have quite a lot of good material to work with, and I feel sure that a large percent of the eighth grade pupils can be promoted at close of school year to high school. I am insisting that these boys and girls, especially of the eighth grade do more night study, and make sure of promotion.

No one will do well in school unless he is willing to pay the price. The price of an education is hard night work. Lincoln used the pine torch by which to study at night. The boy or girl who will study at night, their lesson for next day, will learn more in one year than those who do not study at night will learn in two years.

On the whole we have a fine student body, and both students and teachers are doing some excellent work.

Expression work is greatly needed in the school, and we are especially desirous that this very essential part of a well rounded education be offered in our curriculum.

We have a splendid music class under the management of Miss Bolen.

H. J. Cox, Prin

Joe Tinsley, principal of the Fairview High school at Denver, Tenn., was at home during the holidays. Joe is looking fine and is very much pleased with his work. He states that the people in that section are behind the school and co-operate with the teachers in every way to make the school a success.
